PINCHOT FAVORS MEMORIAL BUT NOT AT PRESENT

Local Committee Gets Views Of Governor In Call Made At Capitol

MEASURE NOW BEFORE HOUSE

A committee from Gettysburg camp, Sons of Union Veterans, conferred with Governor Gifford Pinchot in Harrisburg, Wednesday, relative to an appropriation for a memorial to Abraham Lincoln in the center square grass plot.

Dr. C. B. Stouffer, chairman of the committee, today said he would give his report of the conference with the governor at the Friday evening meeting of the Sons of Veterans' camp. He said he would withhold all information about the conference until that time.

Little Encouragement
From another source, however, it was learned that the local committee received little encouragement from Governor Pinchot that an appropriation for a memorial would be forthcoming at the present session of the legislature.

It was said that Governor Pinchot informed the committee that the budget for the next two years had been made up and presented to the legislature before he was informed of the plans to improve the grass plot here with a memorial to the Civil War president.

Governor Pinchot was said to favor the plan, and said he would give it consideration when the legislature meets in two years.

Introduces Measure
Representative George D. Sheely, New Oxford, has already introduced a measure into the House of Representatives at Harrisburg asking for a state appropriation of $40,000 for the Lincoln memorial here. In view of the governor's reported pronouncements to the committee, Wednesday, it is not considered likely that Mr. Sheely's bill will receive consideration at this session.

The conference with Governor Pinchot was arranged by Mr. Sheely. With Doctor Stouffer on the Sons of Veterans' committee were J. E. Snyder and W. I. Shields.

Plans for the improvement of the concrete curb around the grass plot are proceeding, and work on this improvement is expected to begin as soon as the weather opens up. The Adams county commissioners have appropriated $2,000 for the improvement, the work to be done by the state highway department.

The brick base for the light standard in the middle of the grass plot was recently braced with wires and numerous bricks, which had fallen out were replaced.

ASK OFFICIALS FOR FLU REPORT

State Desires Information On Number Of Cases In Pennsylvania.

Letters were forwarded today to the various county medical directors connected with the Pennsylvania state department of health by Dr. J. Moore Campbell, chief of the bureau of communicable diseases, relative to the present incidence of influenza conditions which have broken out in various sections of the commonwealth.

"So far, the situation has not become general in Pennsylvania," said Dr. Campbell, "but from reports now being received there appears to be very definite basis for the belief that the spread of influenza and respiratory diseases from the southeastern portion of the state where it has already made its appearance, will take place."

No Definite Stand
"While the department thus far has taken no definite stand other than that of warning the public regarding personal habits and the necessity of placing itself under the care of physicians upon the first indication of illness, it is making a determined effort through the information which will be collected by the county medical directors to determine the possible extent of the growth of influenza manifestations."

"While there is no necessity of becoming alarmed the department desires to be prepared to take necessary steps to prevent a serious situation insofar as it is possible to do so, if the reports lead to the conclusion that such a situation might be expected," concluded Dr. Campbell.

WEATHER REPORT
Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight. Friday cloudy and slightly warmer in the extreme south portion.

Will Rogers says:

To the Editor of The Times:
Durant, Oklahoma, Feb. 5.—I see by tonight's paper where Mr. Hoover dispatched a flier to Arkansas and the stricken area to see how bad things were. He could have sent a blind man and found out. The Red Cross is feeding 70 counties in this State. Every town is feeding people, yet the ones that have it sure do help. We played morning, afternoon and night in three small towns all under six thousand population, and the three paid over ten thousand dollars in admissions. They did that because they know it's needed. If the rest of the country could just get woke up like that and quit waiting on the Government. Look at the farmers, they are promised relief since Lincoln's first administration.

Yours,
Will Rogers.

SHEELY LEADS WITH BILLS IN NEW ASSEMBLY

Flood Of Measures Is Noted In Both Houses Of Legislature.

PLACED BEFORE COMMITTEES

Harrisburg, Feb. 5 (AP).—Bills, bills, bills—and more bills.

Carried on the wave of legislative enthusiasm they have been swept into the hopes of the general assembly in flood proportions. To the legislative reference bureau corps and the newspaper correspondents, the first 300 have been the hardest for their introduction has been concentrated in two or three brief sessions.

As usual they have covered a multiplicity of subjects and range from an act presented in the house to create an unemployment fund with an $80,000,000 state appropriation to one which would make highway crossings safe for cattle. In size they vary from less than one side of a printed sheet to codes of several hundred pages.

2 Senate "Catalogues"

The bulkier bills presented thus far are two senate opuses which the legislators are already referring to as "mail order" catalogs. One of these is the Harris election law codification; the other, the Wein-gartner codification of third class cities laws. The latter has been printed and is contained in 428 pages; the Harris code is expected at least to equal it in length.

The early house bills have been relatively short, the 112-page public service commission law of Representative Hagener being the most voluminous.

Senator Clark, of Chester, led the first assault upon the law-making machinery of the senate. He offered 25 of the first 64 bills in that division, most of them adding sections of Chester county roads to the state highway system.

Sheely Introduces 17
Representative Sheely, of Adams, submitted the largest batch in the house, introducing 17 which dealt with practically that number of diverse subjects.

"A joint resolution proposing an amendment to article eight of the constitution of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section eighteen."

"Referred to the committee on constitutional amendments."

"Little Pig" Finds Its Way Out of Pen and 2 Men Land In Jail Here

Small Porker Missing From Shed At Farm Near Gettysburg So Constable Is Put On Its Trail And Two Men Are Arrested.

This is the story of a little pig that didn't go to market, but was headed toward a pig roast or some other gastronomic delight until the law stepped in.

On the night of January 26, a young porker was spirited away from Joseph Galbraith's piggery on West Confederate avenue, leaving nothing behind but the squeals which furnished the authorities nothing tangible in the way of a clue.

The little pig apparently had a good time while he was away from his brothers and sisters for he was seen playing with several children on or in the vicinity of South Washington street within the past few days. But that's getting away from the story.

After the pig's disappearance, Galbraith called upon Constable C. A. Fox to run down the persons responsible for the little pig's absence. Constable Fox learned that the little pig was in custody somewhere on South Washington street.

As a result of the officer's investigation, Ralph Miller, colored, was taken into custody, Wednesday evening, and placed in the Adams county jail. This morning an unidentified white man also was apprehended in connection with the theft.

Taken before Justice of the Peace Neil W. Gibson, Miller and the white man agreed to return the juvenile porker and pay the costs, after which the case was dismissed.

New Six-Point Program to Be Presented to New Group Friday

The program for 1931 to be presented to the newly organized group of Gettysburg citizens at the organization meeting in the Hotel Gettysburg annex, Friday night at 7 o'clock, embraces six features, according to an announcement from Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college, who presided at the special committee meeting Wednesday noon.

Six distinct objects were selected by the committee as being essential things for the new group to accomplish this year. In addition to these six phases other suggestions may be adopted by the newly organized group after the organization is completed.

The committee stressed the importance of accomplishing some worthwhile objectives this year in an attempt to weave a close-working, effective organization in Gettysburg. Committee members were unanimous in their opinion that Gettysburg is in need of a hard-working organization that has for its objectives the promotion and advancement of the entire community.

Committee members were hopeful that a large number of Gettysburg and Adams county citizens would enroll in such an organization and that the organization would remain intact.

Friday night's meeting is open to the public. The suggested program, adopted by the committee, will be presented to the group for approval. New members will be enrolled and four officers will be elected as follows: chairman, vice chairman, secretary and treasurer.

There will be no executive committee or board of directors, the committee decided. All business will be transacted in open meeting.

Quarantine 11 Cases of Whooping Cough Here Within Past Few Days

Other Cases Expected To Appear Within Next Few Days By Health Officer.

With eleven cases of whooping cough under quarantine in Gettysburg, board of health authorities are advising parents of children ill with persistent coughs to communicate with their family physician so that the malady may not become epidemic.

Erle P. Deardorff, secretary of the board of health, today said he has the names of several children in Gettysburg whose ailments resemble whooping cough and that unless these cases are reported to him immediately investigations will be made.

11 Cases Quarantined

Of the eleven cases of whooping cough now under quarantine here, four are in the family of Frank Fissel, North Franklin street. In the Fissel family, George, 8; Robert, 7; Mary Ellen, 4, and Darlene, 3, are ill.

Others quarantined for whooping cough follow:

Goldie Wagaman, 7, daughter of Charles Wagaman, rear of Brock-bridge street; Margaret Trew, 6, and Jane Trew, 8, daughters of James Trew, Seminary avenue; Harrison McCrea Dickson, 5, son of Dr. J. McCrea Dickson, Broadway; Dorothy Morris, 5, and Belle Morris, 8, daughters of Captain W. S. Morris, Lincoln avenue; Richard Thomas, 9, son of Edmund W. Thomas, Lincoln avenue.

C. William Duncan Speaks In York

Mr. Duncan, a former resident of Gettysburg, conducts the "Now My Idea Is This" column of the Evening Ledger and has interviewed 1,300 men and women in the last four years, believed to be a record in newspaper work.

He gave his impressions of Clarence Darrow, Otis Skinner, Al Capone, George M. Cohan, Governor Ritchie, Ty Cobb, Jack Dempsey and many other well known men and related their views on subjects of interest.

George Hummel, president of Gettysburg college athletic council, is also president of the York Rotary club and presided. Henry T. Bream, football coach, and Charles W. Beachem, alumni secretary, were also guests of Mr. Hummel at the luncheon.

Boy Killed Hopping Truck Near Home

Falling from a motor truck Wednesday while stealing a ride, Morgan J. Krout, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Curvin Krout, York Haven, was fatally injured. The boy had suffered a fractured skull.

The boy ran twenty feet to the lawn in front of his home, where he dropped dead. His mother witnessed the accident.

According to Constable Fred La Prairie, it had been the custom of Morgan and his younger brother, Thomas, to hop the rear of the truck above their home and ride to their home.

Both the constable and Richard Eisenberg, York, driver of the truck, had warned the boys not to board the machine, they reported.

The child is survived by his parents and seven brothers and sisters.

Gettysburg Woman Has Husband Held

Homer Staley, York, was arrested at his home Wednesday on a charge of non-support of his wife and child. Information was made before Alderman Robert E. McGurk, York, by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Staley, of Gettysburg. In default of bail Staley was committed to jail for his appearance in York court on Monday.

Ray Houck was arrested by Constable C. V. Yingling, at Union Bridge, Maryland, on a charge of non-support of his wife and four-year-old child. Information was made before Alderman McGurk, by his wife, Mrs. Ray Houck, York. In default of bail Houck was committed to jail for his appearance Monday.

NO PUBLICITY

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP).—The navy department does not intend to make public the charges against Major General Smedley Butler. Major Henry Leonard counsel for the marine officer, has said Butler neither desired publication nor did he desire to withhold publication. "It is a matter for determination wholly by the navy department," he said.

PLEDGE $1,000 TO AID BOYS IN ADAMS COUNTY

Movement Sponsored By 23 Business Men Headed By Dr. Hanson.

EXPLAIN WORK OF SCOUTING

A representative group of Gettysburg men comprising the board of directors and the boys' committee of the Rotary and the Lions' clubs with representatives of Gettysburg college, this noon pledged a $1,000 subscription to finance a Boy Scout movement in Gettysburg for one year. The pledging of the $1,000 contribution was given subject to the approval of the action of the entire membership of the two clubs and some financial support from the community.

Ray F. Zaner, scout executive of the York council, outlined a Boy Scout program for Gettysburg and Adams county to work in cooperation and in conjunction with the York county scouts. Mr. Zaner explained that $1,000 was required to finance a Boy Scout program in Gettysburg for one year and the 23 representative business men of the community pledged their support to the cause.

Civic Clubs Interested

It was explained at this noon's meeting that the two civic clubs were interested in boys' work and that it was believed the membership of the two clubs would contribute materially to the fund necessary.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college, said that the local institution of learning could be depended upon to support the Boy Scout movement in Gettysburg.

Although not official it was estimated that the two civic clubs and the college would raise approximately $750 towards the $1,000 fund and those present at the meeting today felt that the $250 balance could be raised by popular subscription in the community with little or no effort.

Makes Startling Statement

A startling statement was made by Mr. Zaner to the effect that the Communist party, operating in America under supervision of Russia, was opposing the Boy Scout movement in America, a movement that receives wholehearted support wherever it is promoted.

The Boy Scouts of America will observe their 21st birthday anniversary on Sunday. Appropriate radio broadcasts will be presented over a nation-wide hook-up of stations, Mr. Zaner announced.

BULLETS LOSE TO OLD RIVALS

Dickinson Defeats Local Team In Spirited Game Wednesday

The Gettysburg college basketball team lost to its old rival, Dickinson college, by a score of 39 to 27 in a hotly contested game played before 1500 spectators in the Dickinson Alumni gymnasium at Carlisle Wednesday night.

In the early minutes of the game the Bullets led in the scoring, Buell setting the pace.

However, Myers, star center for Dickinson, soon led the Ped and White team in a strong counter attack and before the end of the first quarter Dickinson held a 12 to 10 lead.

Only once thereafter did the local team threaten to take the lead. Early in the second quarter, Seeley Gettysburg guard, opened up with a number of field goals to tie the score at twelve points.

Dickinson then took the lead again and held it during the remainder of the game, rallying ten more points in the first half and allowing the Bullets only two points, on a field goal.

Early in the third quarter Gettysburg rallied but failed by five points to tie the count. During the last period the visitors were allowed only four points with Dickinson rallying eleven.

Myers again captured last scoring honors, gathering fourteen points for Dickinson, and Seeley led the Bullets with ten.

BUTLER CHARGE TERMED SEVERE

Leonard Announces Case Will Be Tried On Its Merits

Washington, Feb. 5.—A series of charges described as "severe," rested Wednesday in the hands of Maj. Smedley D. Butler, but the responsibility for their publication immediately was passed by him back to the navy department, whence they came.

Despite this indication that officials had not softened their attitude toward his now celebrated reference to Premier Mussolini, the marine general was said by Maj. Henry Leonard, his counsel, to have returned to his self-confinement at Quantico, Virginia, with his "morale still high."

Earlier, Butler and Leonard proved they had lost none of the resourcefulness that characterized their days as brother marine officers by eluding Washington correspondents for hours. They spent virtually the entire day secretly preparing the defense to be presented at the court martial in Philadelphia, February 19.

Secretary Adams, who late today approved the charges and specifications against General Butler, said Wednesday night they certainly would not be made public immediately, adding "I guess we'll have to talk it over tomorrow."

Meanwhile, Major Leonard made known some of the defense plans for the trial. He said John W. Davis, who had been mentioned as an attorney for Butler, could not participate, but that another counsel, also "nationally known," would be retained.

Merits of Case

"We intend to conduct our case strictly on the merits of the charge," Leonard said. "There is a clean-cut issue involved and there will be no scandal-mongering or mud-slinging."

He emphasized, however, that the legal code governing the court martial allowed an open trial, adding there was "no reason why we should ask for a closed court."

"In fact," he asserted, "we would object to one."

Hoodlums Play Terrible Joke On Crippled Chicago Salesman

Chicago, Feb. 5 (AP).—Tied to a cemetery cross, pelted with dirt clods and nailed into a coffin, George Wittbrod, crippled salesman, lived through a night of horror to identify his tormentors Wednesday, who told police the prank was "all in fun," were under arrest.

Wittbrod, suffering from shock, was in a hospital. He visited a neighborhood poolroom. As he left the youths seized him, drove him into an automobile and forced him to a cemetery on the edge of the city.

Tied To Tombstone

There, Wittbrod told police, he was tied by his wrists to a tombstone cross and his abductors, ignoring his pleas for mercy, pelted him with clods of dirt.

The youths then cut Wittbrod down and nailed him up in a coffin. Before fastening the lid, the cripple said, the youths fired some straw in the box, but he stopped the blaze by wriggling about.

Falling in their efforts to lower the coffin in a newly dug grave, Wittbrod said, the youths tied the box behind the car, towed it for a while and then abandoned it in a ditch. A passing farmer heard his groans and released him.

"Just A Good Scare"

Police said the youths probably would be charged with kidnapping and assault.

"We didn't like Wittbrod," one of the seven told the police. "We didn't mean to hurt him, but just thought we would give him a good scare."

The fire, which started at 2:30 a. m., raged for nearly three hours. So threatening was the situation that help was asked of nearby towns. Chambersburg and Waynesboro fire companies responded in time to be of effective service, but the firefighters were handicapped by low water pressure.

Sparks and embers caused incipient fires on the roofs of a number of nearby dwellings. The occupants of about a dozen houses in the immediate vicinity of the fire vacated them, some removing their household effects.

Residences Threatened

The origin of the fire has not been determined, but was thought to have been in one of the lumber company's storage sheds.

All the buildings burned were in the western part of the city, on Madison avenue, and for a time the residential section nearby was threatened.

A confusion of alarms delayed the arrival of some of the volunteer fighters, as they decided the blaze was under control. Then a general alarm, the first here in years, was sounded.

The two dwellings burned were those of Joe Mitton and Sam Krettna.

Minnesota Acts To Repeal News Suppression Law

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 5 (AP).—The Minnesota house of representatives late Wednesday voted, 68 to 58, to repeal the Minnesota newspaper suppression law. The bill now goes to the senate.

The law was enacted in 1925 and efforts to repeal it two years ago failed. It provided for suppression by court injunction of newspapers which were found by a court to be publishing regularly "malicious, scandalous or defamatory matter."

The repeal proponents held that the law endangered the right of free newspapers. Governor Floyd B. Olson in his inaugural message to the legislature a month ago urged its repeal.

Spain's Universities Suspended By King

Madrid, Feb. 5 (AP).—All universities in Spain were suspended Wednesday for a month under royal decree. The government said that all other means of pacifying the striking students have been exhausted.

The decree says the students evidently are under revolutionary influences. It adds that sessions must be halted to permit a clear atmosphere for the coming parliamentary elections.

Early Wednesday professors at the University of Seville announced they would hold no classes while the present governor of Seville remained in office. They maintained he exceeded his authority in breaking up a student demonstration last week.

News From Neighboring Counties

LOTTERY TICKETS FOUND IN RAID

York.—A quantity of lottery tickets were confiscated Tuesday by the state police, in charge of Trooper William Kasparovich, when they raided a cigar store alleged to be conducted by Bernell H. Kline, on Carlisle street, Hanover. The winning tickets were based on the returns of the Philadelphia Stock exchange.

Kline was instructed to appear Tuesday evening, before Justice of the Peace A. H. Shettel, North York. Sergeant A. F. Dahlstrom is the prosecutor, charging Kline with the possession of gambling paraphernalia.

DIRECT ACQUITTAL OF FRANKLIN MAN

Chambersburg.—A verdict of acquittal was directed in the case of Samuel Shapiro of Orbisonia, who was arraigned for trial on charge Tuesday morning on the count of issuing a check without sufficient funds in bank. The verdict was directed and the costs were placed on the county when it was pointed out by William R. Davison, Shapiro's counsel, that the evidence of the commonwealth showed only that Shapiro had stopped payment on the check.

The check, in amount $22.30, was given to Calvin McFadden, Fort Loudon garageman, on October 3, 1930, by Shapiro in payment for repairs to the Shapiro car. McFadden and his mechanic, Charles Dietrich, testified that McFadden left his car at the garage for repairs, after burning out the bearings.

MAN'S EYE CUT BY SHATTERED GLASS

Waynesboro.—Glass shattered when a bullet shattered a window in the Frick company pattern shop Tuesday cut the eye of George Alters, this place, who was working nearby. Mr. Walters was taken to Hagerstown, where the injury was treated.

Police were notified and are conducting an investigation.

According to officers, the shot was fired from a high-powered rifle. After penetrating the window, the bullet struck an oil can and missed damaging a machine by a few inches.

Mr. Alters returned to work.

DAIRY PRODUCTS DROP IN PRICE IN MARYLAND

Frederick.—With milk at the lowest figure for fifteen years, eggs at their lowest in twenty years, and butter prices falling almost every day, dairy products in Frederick are certainly taking the down swing of the pendulum. This is not the result of a "milk war" or any cut price battle, dealers state, but simply the result of a glutted market, which may or may not last.

Frederick appears to have been a pioneer in the milk reduction program in the eastern part of the country, as the prices which are being put into effect here this week have not yet been noted in the larger cities. In the west, however, especially in such dairying states as Wisconsin and Michigan, milk prices some time ago hit the boggy, and the fall is likely to become a nation-wide.

DISCUSS $40,000 PENN BOND ISSUE

Hanover.—Between forty and fifty residents and tax payers of Penn township turned out Tuesday evening at an open meeting held in Stouffer's school, New Baltimore, for the purpose of discussing the proposed school bond issue of $40,000 which is to be voted upon at a special election to be held February 17. Several women were among those in attendance.

This was the first of a series of six meetings. The next is to be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Parkville engine house. The meetings were arranged by the township school board which passed a resolution January 2 expressing their desire for their proposed bond issue.

The CRIME IN THE DUTCH GARDEN

By Herbert Adams

SYNOPSIS: When a stone figure, murderously toppled over, kills Annabelle Querdling in her Dutch garden, Jimmie Haswell, amateur detective, recalls that her niece, Evelyn Blake, had consulted him regarding death threats against the spinster. The body was found by Evelyn's sister, Marjorie, soon after she and Dr. Netherton had talked with her, and while, according to Evelyn, she and her fiancé, Lionel Duckworth, were singing in the house. Janet Raynes, parlormaid, confirms Evelyn's story and helps to establish an alibi for Green, the chauffeur, who with Joe Green, a discharged gardener, is suspected. Major Gresham explains to Police Superintendent Richmond that his presence near the murder scene was due to his unrequited love for Miss Querdling, who frowned on all romance. Constable Roscoe reports having seen a strange car and driver nearby on the night of the tragedy, and Green tells of encountering an empty automobile.

THE BORROWED HAMMER

Superintendent Richmond's curiosity regarding the mysterious car Green had seen as he hurried for the doctor was hardly satisfied by the meagre description the chauffeur gave. It was, he said, a Morris two-seater, similar to many in the neighborhood. There was no one in the car and the top was up. The superintendent suggested that Green know the make of the cars nearby, could say whose it was.

"There are lots of Morris'es," said Green gruffly. "Like Captain Stirling's, but two Morris'es in the dark are as much alike as black cats. I keep saying I don't know." He glared at the insistent Richmond.

"I suppose the lights were on," suggested Jimmie in his friendly way. "Did you notice the number?"

"No, sir. I was running for the doctor."

But Jimmie's further inquiry revealed that when Green had returned the same way the car was gone. Jimmie exchanged significant glances with Richmond. Granting the story true, it would have been easy for a killer to hide in the shadows of the garden before escaping in a waiting car.

Then they left him and went to the gardener's cottage to verify the story of the hammer.

"That's right," Ben Acres told them. "My hammer wor broke. I 'ad borrowed Ted's. He coom along and fetched it."

Thus Green's explanation of his brief absence from the garage appeared confirmed. He was, it appeared, at Ben's when Janet went out to the garage the first time to tell him of Lionel's singing and had returned in time to meet her on her second call.

It was, as Donald said the next morning, "a very queer business," but Jimmie smiled when he added, "If Jimmie doesn't clear it up, I doubt if any one will. You believe the chauffeur did it, don't you, Jimmie?"

"I believe he could have done it, but that is a different thing," was the reply. "You see, there is really little to work on—apart from those letters, virtually no clues. When it's poison, you have an immediate field of inquiry, and in case of shooting or stabbing, the weapon can be traced. But here a mass of stone is pushed on a defenseless woman below. Motives in many quarters may be alleged in the case of a dictatorial woman. The seat had been moved, but Miss Querdling might have done that herself."

Donald, Nancy and Jimmie were at breakfast on the Wade verandah overlooking the links. The tragedy was inevitably the morning's topic.

"Surely," said Nancy, "only a very strong person could throw the figure over?"

"No," said Jimmie. "We examined it very carefully—at least, we examined the companion one that is undisturbed. It is beautifully balanced, but a girl could push it over. A child almost might. It fell quite five feet, and I suspect death was instantaneous."

"How terrible!" shuddered Nancy. "Who could have planned such a thing?"

"Was it planned, or was it a sudden wicked impulse?" answered Jimmie. "A premeditated crime may be well thought out, but there is often some oversight, some slip, that leads to detection. The sudden seizing of an opportunity, as this may have been, is far harder to track down."

"I was sorry to hear about Mrs. Frater, poor girl. Is she really bad?" inquired Nancy, changing the conversation.

"Poor girl?" echoed Jimmie. "I pictured her as fat, fair and fifty-five. A typical cook. What is she like?"

"Not that," laughed Nancy. "She might be 27. She is not bad-looking, and is really very kind. Her name is really Daphne Frater. Perhaps Daphne is not a suitable name for a cook; Miss Querdling always called her cooks Mrs. She thought it added to their dignity with the tradespeople."

"A tribute to matrimony from an unexpected source. Has Daphne a sweetheart?"

"I believe Alf Collett, the butcher's assistant, could enlighten you on that point," smiled Nancy.

"Why is it queer?"

"Don't you think so? Miss Querdling fighting for general virginity and surrounded by people who will fall in love! There are the letters, probably written, as Duckworth says by two people. There is the household on the premises, a policeman in the road in front, Major Gresham on the lawn and Dr. Netherton in the lane. On the unexplained side we have a 'strange man with his car near the trade entrance seen by the constable; a cloaked woman in the garden, seen by Duckworth; and an empty car beside the fence, seen by the chauffeur. Of course the cloaked woman may have come in the car. If so, who is she? Or the woman may have been a man—not a difficult mistake at dusk—and the car may not exist at all! Richmond thinks Green imagined it."

"The only thing that is clear, Jimmie," laughed Donald, "is that you are fairly intrigued and you want to see it through."

Jimmie had arranged to meet Superintendent Richmond at Dr. Netherton's house at ten. There he planned to supplement the doctor's official report with questions. "A good fellow, Netherton, I suppose?"

"Very," answered Nancy, "and you'll see his dear mother. They are arranging some golf for you. And we'll get you a game with Audrey. Winford, our best lady player—one of Don's old sweethearts. Wait till you see her!"

As it chanced, he was to see her quite soon. Superintendent Richmond, passing Fairways in his car, stopped to pick him up, and they went straight to the doctor's house.

Dr. Netherton's abode was a little beyond the golf course, on the side farthest from Merrow Craig and at the beginning of the village. Its situation had suggested its name of Corner Cottage. It was quite old and its front garden was a blaze of flowers.

The white-haired lady talking with a handsome girl was undoubtedly the doctor's mother, while Jimmie, seeing the golf bag she carried, decided her companion was Audrey Winford. He was right. The old lady explained that her son was in the surgery and would be out presently.

Audrey Winford was an attractive girl and Jimmie took to her at once, even before Mrs. Netherton introduced them. Not softly pretty, she had honest, open gray eyes and a humorous twist to her mouth. She looked self-reliant and capable.

"I must be off," she addressed Mrs. Netherton. "Tell Bill I'll expect him tomorrow afternoon." Their eyes followed her down the pathway, her graceful walk neither a stride nor a slouch.

While Jimmie was admiring Mrs. Netherton's flowers the doctor came out the surgery door. Jimmie observantly noted his good humored face and his kindly gray eyes, not, however, missing the touch of obstinacy about the mouth.

Superintendent Richmond soon put his questions as to the medical details it would be necessary to establish on the following Monday. Bill gave the information required and everything seemed in order. Then the police officer said:

"You and Miss Blake were talking with the old lady for a few minutes, weren't you?"

"Yes. I told her about the cook."

"The cook, I understand," put in Jimmie, "is a fairly hefty young woman. You left her in bed?"

"Yes. Another 24 hours would see her all right."

"Miss Querdling," went on Richmond, "was in her usual spirits—not apprehending trouble?"

"Only the usual trouble."

"What do you mean?"

"She said when Marjorie married she would not get a penny."

There was a pause. The superintendent looked hard at him, and Jimmie had the impression that the doctor regretted his words directly he had said them.

Tomorrow: Bill's silence looks suspicious. Does his secret message to Marjorie seek to cover his own trail?

The boats are shown before the start of the test, which the patrol boat won.

know the way?

Jesus said unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

Philip said unto him, Lord, shew us
the Father, and it sufficeth us.

Jesus said unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet have you not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself, but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

Believe me that I am the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

If ye shall ask any thing in my name,
I will do it.

in the morning and continues his work throughout the entire day and frequently he works a portion of the evening chopping grain for the farmers.

PILES

Ended Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard had the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonard's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and People's Drug Store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery.

When you neglect piles you invite the knife—and operations cause loss of time and are expensive.

With Unguentine Cones the soreness, burning and itching go almost instantly—stubborn cases usually yield in a few days.

This supremely good formula has been endorsed for over 30 years by doctors everywhere.

Why not get a box from your druggist today—he knows they take right hold and do their work speedily.

A box costs but 75 cents, not much to pay to get rid of pile agony—made by the makers of famous Unguentine. The

The New Amsterdam, too, has a clinging charm. Spacious but sombre, it has almost invariably housed a worthy attraction. Provincials have found it a good policy to buy seats there, not knowing or caring the precise name of the attraction.
Other theatres with similar warmth
in by-gone days were The Empire,
The Globe, Knickerbocker and Criterion.

Many new Theatrical temples, dripping a rococo luxury and modern comfort, are strikingly cheerless and lacking individuality. Visiting them is akin to a bench in the waiting room of the Grand Central.

Awarded stiff it often takes years for them to achieve the mellow intimacy that is 50 per cent a theatre's charm. Most newer theatres have foyers that would not compare to a hall bedroom in a second class boarding house. An attractive feature for many theatre goers is the strut through the lobby.

The theatre standing out most vividly in my memory is People's over-the-Rhine in Cincinnati. Here in a beer-slinging, smoke fogged old auditorium those of us who imagined he were the adventurous Cel-linis or Casanovas of that day went to see Rose Sidell's Blonde Belles and perhaps exchange winks with the gold toothed and hippy one second from the left end.

The next most colorful playhouse was the old Orpheum in San Francisco. It was stuffed tight with customers dead and gone throughout the land. (What is this—Old Times' Week, for land's sake?)

TEST CHILDREN FOR ABILITY

Instrument Devised To Check Talents Of Three-Year-Olds.

Iowa City, Iowa (AP).—Musical ability in children is caught at the age of three by instruments and tests devised at the University of Iowa.

Two of the simplest, yet most effective, record the child's ability to keep time by tapping to rhythmic tune or drum beat, and his ability to learn and repeat a simple song.

Measure Ability
"We are trying," says Dr. Haro I. Williams, of the university child welfare research station, "to measure musical ability in the child at least by the time he enters school, in order that the gifted child may be guided properly during its education so as to develop most fully his natural talents."

Although the average child does not develop this ability to a significant extent before the age of five, the gifted youngster, it is found, may make a very good showing at three.

Sharp Line Drawn
A sharp distinction is drawn between promise as a musical performer and promise of future ability to appreciate good music. Very special motor skills are required in the musician, where as a child who lacks this ability may still have the gift of musical appreciation.

The fact that a young child will sit by the hour listening to the phonograph or radio cannot therefore be taken to indicate that he has potential talent as a musician.

But he is likely, says Dr. Williams, to be able to listen appreciatively to good music in later life. It is useless to attempt to train the ungifted child, he finds, with the hope of making him a great musician.

Kruschen Salts—(a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body must have every day to function properly) purify your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it's impossible to get those salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts. Take a half teaspoon every morning in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energy. You'll soon possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 8-oz bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at People's Drug Store or any progressive druggist in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat. Select Delegate To Slavery Meeting

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP).—The designation of Samuel Reber, Jr., Charges d'Affaires at Monrovia, as American member of the League of Nations committee which will recommend social and administrative reforms for Liberia was announced Wednesday night by the state department.

Reber, who will sail from his Liberian post Saturday to go to Geneva for the committee's sessions, was appointed after the state department had accepted an invitation by the league to participate in an international conference on Liberia.

The committee is an outgrowth of the international commission which recently reported on slave conditions in Liberia and whose recommendations have not yet been fulfilled by the Liberian government.

ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH WILL CONTINUE TO LEAD in quality

A Statement of Policy by The Atlantic Refining Company

EVERYTHING that science could contribute has been embodied in ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH: A remarkable new formula. New crudes, carefully selected from the world's choice oil fields. New and improved refining processes. New testing methods.

Before we offered it to you, we put ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH to every conceivable test, on the road and in the laboratory. We found it had no equal, out of the scores of competitive motor fuels examined! Your enthusiastic approval has justified this care. Wherever it has been introduced, ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH has been acclaimed by thousands of motorists as the finest gasoline they have ever known.

It would, perhaps, be easy to rest with this achievement . . . to feel that with ATLANTIC

WHITE FLASH we had reached the border-line of science and could go no farther. But that is not in accordance with Atlantic policy.

We are not satisfied with today's best; we want to make that best even better tomorrow.

Therefore, we are constantly carrying on research at the great Atlantic laboratory. We are in touch with automobile manufacturers, anticipating the fuel requirements of the new models they will bring out in the future. We are experimenting with everything which might possibly mean a better product.

We believe a large portion of the motoring public looks to Atlantic for leadership in quality. We intend to maintain that leadership—tomorrow as well as today.

How to Escape FLU

- 1 Avoid so far as possible the places where flu germs are most likely to be spread; over-crowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.
- 2 Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.
- 3 Get lots of rest. Eat plenty of citrus fruits. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have high resistance against germs.
- 4 Above all, avoid catching colds. They lower your resistance to the flu germ. Ward them off. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin and remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. If you have a sore throat, dissolve some Bayer Aspirin tablets in water and gargle; this will relieve the soreness and reduce the inflammation.
- 5 If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of the flu, call your doctor at once.

Ford Denies Plant In Brazil Will Be Abandoned Shortly

Detroit, Feb. 5 (AP).—The Ford Motor company, instead of planning abandonment of its Brazilian rubber plantation, intends to speed up the work there, a statement issued by the company Monday said.

"There is no truth in the report that the Ford rubber plantation is to be abandoned," the statement said.

"The fact is that work toward completion of the project is progressing at this moment ahead of schedule. Within less than three years since the concession was acquired, more than 3500 acres of jungles have been cleared and nearly two-thirds of that acreage has been terraced and drained for planting.

"In the same country more than 140,000 seedlings actually have been set out and a nursery with upwards of 200,000 seedlings has been developed in readiness for planting as additional acreage is terraced and drained."

Find Skeletons In Cave In Nevada

Pasadena, Cal. (AP).—Perhaps prehistoric beasts roamed the Rockies not so long ago.

Their skeletons, found in Gypsum cave, Nevada, along with evidences of human beings who were their contemporaries, has revealed this possibility.

Either these early America men lived a very long time ago, says Dr. Chester Stock of California Institute of Technology, or else the animals did not die out in such remote antiquity as generally believed.

The Gypsum cave deposits, Dr. Stock says, may answer this question. With the skeletons are dried fragments of cacti, and comparison of these remains with the known history of plant evolution may provide a clue to the time when the cacti grew.

Governor Has Not Seen Resolution Offered By Earnest

Harrisburg, Feb. 5 (AP).—The substitute resolution presented Tuesday by Senator Earnest providing for a Senate investigation of the public service commission is still an unknown quantity to Governor Pinchot.

The governor said Wednesday he had declined to make any comment on the resolution because he had not read it. The governor said he would publish none of the findings of his unemployment committee headed by Dr. Clyde King until next Tuesday when he addresses the general assembly in joint session in the House of Representatives.

He plans additional messages from time to time while the general assembly is in session.

Harry Kraft pitched a no-hit no-run game in the senior city indoor baseball league at Kenosha, Wisconsin.

PINCHOT MAKES NEW AUTORULING

Orders Them Painted Brown With Seal Of State On Their Side.

In presenting his budget to the legislature this week, Governor Pinchot against the misuse of state-owned automobiles.

He cut the amount recommended for car purchase to $650,000 for the next two years. In 1929 Governor Fisher allowed $1,010,000. The reduced amount will be adequate to buy as many cars as are needed, but not to buy large quantities of high-priced machines.

Title 1,500 Cars

The state at present has title to more than 1,500 passenger automobiles and 1,400 trucks. Many of the passenger cars are in the $4,000 and $5,000 class. Governor Pinchot, in buying his own car, selected one costing $2,000. In his prior administration he designated $2,000 as the top limit in buying cars.

He has started several other steps to end abuse of the state car privilege. He decided the cars are to be painted buckskin brown, with the state seal on the side, to make them noticeable. That is to prevent use of the cars for joy riding and Sunday driving.

He also started an inquiry into the use of the cars. He wants to know if the persons to whom cars are assigned actually need them in the state's business. He also notified his cabinet that it is expected to live in Harrisburg and not commute by automobile between the capital and their homes in distant counties.

No Jobs, Pinchot Says, Until End Of Present Legislative Session

Harrisburg, Feb. 5 (AP).—Governor Pinchot today issued a further notice that it is useless for job seekers to come to the capitol here to apply in person for appointment and requesting them to make their applications in writing.

"I am obliged as I was 8 years ago, to postpone the consideration of such application until after the session of the legislature," the governor said. "I repeat that only such changes in personnel will be made before that time as may be required for the efficient operation of the government and the satisfactory functioning of the administration."

The St. Louis Cardinals won 16 of 20 games played in doubleheaders at home last season.

Uncover Plot To Divert Alcohol From Industry

New York, Feb. 5 (AP).—A country-wide plot alleged to have resulted in the diversion for beverage purposes of more than 1,000,000 gallons of alcohol and perfume was outlined by federal agents Tuesday as nineteen men and two women were held for removal proceedings to Chicago.

An indictment there for conspiracy to violate the dry laws also named the Allied Drug and Chemical company, E. M. Lanning and company, Joubert, Cie, Norda Essential Oil and Chemical company and C. H. Selick, Inc.

Liquor was distributed, it is charged, as the result of diversion in New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, Los Angeles and Chicago.

Among those arraigned were William H. Barlow, Jersey City; Elmer M. Lanning, Irvington, New Jersey, and Robert C. Pursell, Bay Ridge, New Jersey.

Children Burn To Death At Leechburg

Leechburg, Feb. 5 (AP).—Two children were burned to death and their mother was burned seriously in trying to rescue them in a fire that destroyed the home of Paul Faulk, near here, today.

The children were Paul Faulk, Jr., and Theodore, 2. Mrs. Faulk was taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

The bodies of the children were found in the ruins. Mrs. Faulk said she was feeding chickens in the yard when she heard the children scream. The new two-story dwelling was in flames and her efforts to rescue the children was futile. Firemen said the older child had probably poured oil on a fire and caused an explosion.
